VALUES

“Responsibility”

“Little Hands, Big Responsibility!”

At Kindergarten, we believe in not just nurturing young minds but also in instilling strong values. For the month of August, the value in focus was ‘Responsibility’. Through simple and meaningful activities, our little ones explored what it means to be responsible in their daily actions. They practiced taking ownership of small tasks such as packing their bags, tidying up their craft area, returning books to shelves, and caring for their belongings. These experiences help children understand the importance of responsibility while building independence, self-discipline, and a sense of pride in their actions - laying the foundation for lifelong habits.

VALUES

Sharing

"Learning The Joy of Sharing!"

"Sharing Brings Friends Together!"
True to the above line, Kindergarten children learned a beautiful life lesson - the value of sharing. Through stories, songs, and fun activities, they discovered that love and friendship grow stronger when we share. Teachers helped them understand that sharing not only builds friendships but also teaches kindness, patience, and empathy. Children realized that when they share, they make others happy and feel happy themselves too! It was a heartwarming lesson that filled the classroom with smiles, care, and togetherness — a true celebration of the spirit of sharing.
